-  “The Bosses.” Periodically, the Base Commander, Schools Superintendent, College President, City Manager, and their chief assistants meet to discuss mutual problems, and discuss any projects “in the works.” The City hosted the most recent meeting. Craig Peterson has begun attending meetings of “The Bosses” to represent the county government. Other “new faces” included newly-appointed Base Commander Mick Gleason, and Interim College President Dr. Mary Retterer. There was discussion of the new medical marijuana shop; the schedule for appointment of a “permanent” College President (i.e. a little over a year); street paving “conflicts” with access to the Base; and more. The Fall meeting of “The Bosses” will be hosted by the School District.
-  Council meetings, Council committees, Staff meetings.
-  News media briefings, KZIQ radio commentaries, DI columns, tour of City with reporter in preparation for articles on the Safe Roads Initiative, meeting with DI Publisher regarding several issues.
-  John O’Gara, et. al. Base and City staff teams met to discuss planning and zoning in terms of environmental considerations and Base operations. We are moving closer to a written understanding of limitations for both parties.
-  Corollo Engineering. Consulting engineers and City staff continue meetings to review plans for construction of the City’s second wastewater treatment plant.
-  Workman’s Compensation system training.
-  Meetings with PAM Companies representatives regarding various projects.
-  Meeting with staff to review new Corporation Yard design.
